
Report Preparation

321.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

Report preparation is a major part of each officer's job. All personnel are expected to do a thorough and complete investigation. The purpose of reports is to document sufficient information to refresh the officer's memory and to provide sufficient information for follow-up investigation and successful prosecution. Report writing is the subject of substantial formalized training and on-the-job training.

321.1.1 REPORT PREPARATION

Employees should ensure that reports are sufficiently complete, thorough and detailed that they portray a word picture of the events that occurred and free from errors prior to submission.

It is the responsibility of the assigned employee to complete and submit all reports taken during the shift before going off-duty unless permission to hold the report has been approved by a supervisor.

Reports requiring prompt follow-up action on active leads, or arrest reports where the suspect remains in custody shall not be held, without specific reasons & permission of a supervisor.

All police reports shall be completed prior to the officers days off, unless permission to hold the report has been approved by a supervisor.

Handwritten reports must be prepared legibly. If the report is not legible, the submitting employee will be required by the reviewing supervisor to promptly make corrections and resubmit the report. Employees who dictate reports shall use appropriate grammar, as content is not the responsibility of the typist. Employees who generate reports on computers are subject to all requirements of this policy.

All reports shall accurately reflect the identity of the persons involved, all pertinent information seen, heard or assimilated by any other sense, and any actions taken. Employees shall not suppress, conceal or distort the facts of any reported incident, nor shall any employee make a false report orally or in writing. Generally, the reporting employee's opinions should not be included in reports unless specifically identified as such.
